

One-Page Product Brief

Product Name

Prism

One-line Pitch

Prism helps people explore unfamiliar topics by transforming information into multiple perspectives that match their goals.

User

Curious learners exploring new topics who don't know the best path through information.

Problem

Today's digital experiences are optimized for retrieving answers, not building understanding. Users must adapt to predefined structures instead of exploring information through the perspective most useful to them.

Solution

An AI-powered exploration engine that dynamically reorganizes information based on user intent.

Core Experience

Enter a topic → choose a perspective → explore a customized knowledge path.

Design Principle

Information should adapt to the user's intent, not require users to adapt to the information system.

MVP

A web app where users enter a topic and receive multiple AI-generated exploration paths.

Why Base44

Uses:

- structured data models
- AI-generated relationships
- persistent user exploration history
- dynamic content generation
